Miniature Workshop

Instructor: Jorn Fox

One-Day Workshop

Saturday | 10am - 4pm

March 27, 2010

Tuition | $175

Learn an easy way to produce small but powerful paintings. Follow along with me as we paint “wet-into-wet” using rich primary colors. We will produce two 5x5 inch paintings: one of “Jorn’s Choice” and a second painting of your choice. Bring a photo of your subject matter to the workshop.

Materials: 2 - 5x5” box canvas, 1.5” thick

Oil Paints: Alizarin Crimson, Cadmium Yellow Medium, Pthalo Green, Titanium White, and Ultra Marine Blue

Brushes: Liner Brushes - sizes 0, 2 and 4; Sable Bright brushes - sizes 2 and 4

Medium: (M. Graham & Co.) Walnut Oil Palette Knife, Roll of Paper Towels, and Small cup to hold medium

Instructor: Jorn Fox, a Southern California native was exposed to art at an early age by his father. He began his formal art studies in high school and successively at CSU Fullerton. Through the many hours spent in his studio he found he was afforded the opportunity of limitless expression, exploration and discovery in the maturation of his art. Fox’s distinctive works have achieved national recognition and are included in numerous corporate collections throughout the United States: Washington Mutual, Howe and Associates, Finance America, City of Newport Beach, Marriott Hotels, Windsor Capital and many more. Jorn Fox is represented by Art Gallery International, Costa Mesa, CA.
